

I am an evolutionary biologist with a special interest for the study of life history traits evolution using experimental methods such as quantitative genetics and experimental evolution. Since my PhD, I have been working on the evolutionary aspects accompanying biological invasions. Nowadays, focusing on laboratory-controlled experiments, I am leading researches on the contribution of contemporary changes during the invasion process of Harmonia axyridis.

From:

<http://www1.montpellier.inra.fr/CBGP/wikis/biodiversa/> - Biodiversa

Permanent link:

http://www1.montpellier.inra.fr/CBGP/wikis/biodiversa/doku.php?id=members:benoit_facon&rev=1407769606

Last update: 11/08/2014 16:06